It is oriented around key areas of contextualized ministry, leadership growth, and practical theology. It is structured around bi-monthly gatherings with other residents and the Residency Leads, designed through particular resources to read, listen to, and discuss. Below you'll find a breakdown of our topics and timeline.

DEVELOPMENT TOPICS & TIMELINE

SUMMER TRIMESTER 2024

Topic: Building a Support Team

A common misconception is that fundraising is something to accomplish before the real work of ministry begins. The reality is that fundraising is ministry in itself because we are announcing what God has called us into as we invite others into the mission of God. We'll approach fundraising from a position rooted in biblical truths and our identities in Christ. You'll be given practical tools, ongoing coaching, and the support needed to reach and maintain 100% in a way that honors the frame God has given you.

FALL TRIMESTER 2024

Topic: Learning Everyday Theology

There is certainly a way to do theology that divorces it from our affections and everyday lives. But it was never supposed to be done like this. The beautiful truths we discern in the divinely-inspired Word of God are meant to stir our souls into infectious delight and guide our lives in the most practical of ways. Beholding who God is, who we are as His images in the world, and how our Lord has structured reality—this transforms both us and the people we lead. During this segment we'll learn (and practice!) theology according to this vision.

SPRING TRIMESTER 2025

Topic: Becoming an Integrated Leader

It's often said you cannot give away what you do not have; and you cannot take others where you have not been. These truths equally apply to the inner life of a leader as they do to the material world. It's essential that we do not merely "do for" Jesus, but cultivate a life in and with Jesus. This takes us on a journey to discern our own stories and families of origin, pursue emotional reintegration, practice a non-anxious presence, and discover afresh our own wirings and giftings as they get worked out in the workplace, through the church, and out in the world.

SUMMER TRIMESTER 2025

Topic: Practicing Cruciform Leadership

The way of Jesus is oriented toward the cross—and we are called to model our own life after His. The ancients would call this a “cruciform” way of living, an approach that takes seriously the call to actively take up our cross, bear it daily, die to self, and become a living sacrifice in service to God and others. What does this look like in practice? How are we formed to have the character of Christ in how we lead others? How do both our strengths and weaknesses become proper lenses through which to see our leadership? It is these and similar questions we’ll take up in this segment.

FALL TRIMESTER 2025

Topic: Contextualizing Gospel Ministry

The Gospel of Jesus Christ is foundationally and eternally true. Yet culture and language are in a near—constant flux. How do we faithfully and effectively bring scriptural truths to bear on our particular context, and to the specific people God has called us to? We’ll find we need to develop a theological vision that holds fast to God’s Word while paying deliberate and embodied attention to the people and places around us. Such an approach strengthens our presence and practice of ministry in whatever city and culture we find ourselves.

SPRING TRIMESTER 2026

Topic: Orienting Life around Jesus

It is easy to “fall into” our schedules and functional priorities. Or, we even allow other people to determine them for us! It is essential that we deal with rigorous honesty the stewardships God has given us, starting with the time, energy, and attention allotted to us all. Then we may start building toward a practical structure and guide through which we discern the most important things and commit to “what’s best next.” It is here that we find that most formational effect on our lives and opportunity for effectiveness, no matter where we are called in the next season.
